

C.S.M.S.S.AYURVED MAHAVIDYALAYA, AURANGABAD

DEPT- RACHANA SHARIR

PEO's

Rachana Sharir UG students will -

1. Rachana Sharir UG student will have comprehensive knowledge of Ayurved and Modern Anatomy in order to enable them to achieve complete understanding of clinical as well as surgical aspect of the disease in practice.
2. Ability to work as individual and member of multidisciplinary team during cadaveric dissection and surgical procedure .
3. Understand the meaning and application of the social determinants of health and their implication for the health care needs of individuals, families and communities.

Rachana Sharir PG students will –

1. Will have Research oriented aspect regarding unexplained and doubtful concepts of Rachana Sharir and their usefulness for practical application.
2. Have sufficient knowledge of health care system to understand its impact upon the delivery of sustainable health care services.
3. Acquire the basic skills in teaching of the Ayurvedic professionals and to create social awareness in promotion of organ and body donation.